

NO-BURN® TREATS FAIRFIELD, CA HOME FOR EXTREME MAKEOVER: HOME EDITION

AIRED NOVEMBER 6, 2005

The Tom family consists of single mom Susan and seven adopted children who face physical challenges on a daily basis. The Tom family has dealt with several misfortunes over the years, including the deaths of three children whom Susan had adopted, the most recent being Anthony, who passed away just before Christmas.

Xenia and Hannah were born without legs, and Libby's spinal bifida confines her to a wheelchair. Chloe was born unable to bend her elbows and knees, making it a nightmare for her to use the stairs. Katie, who was born with Fetal Alcohol Syndrome is mentally challenged, and Faith, who was badly burned as a baby and battles stares from strangers every day of her life. Finally, there's Margaret who was not expected to live because of brain damage; she's now a thriving 21-year-old who works full-time and helps her siblings as she pursues her dream of becoming a pediatric nurse.

The new house has two and a half stories, with an elevator so the kids can easily go between floors. The home was completely assembled off site. The NO-BURN® team, with the help of dealers from California, was able to treat the entire structure.

The NO-BURN® team also had the privilege of helping to frame the house on site, which was extremely rewarding.
