

NO-BURN® TREATS KANSAS HOME FOR EXTREME MAKEOVER: HOME EDITION

AIRED JANUARY 2006

Kevin and Cathy Nutsch and their five daughters from Kansas lost everything when their house exploded due to a propane leak. The family was out of town at the time. Now Extreme Makeover: Home Edition is building the family a new home, and treating the Nutsch Family to a vacation.

While the family is away, the Extreme Makeover: Home Edition gang help the Nutschs "pay it forward" by helping another deserving family in need from the community -- who were affected by Hurricane Katrina -- with a fundraiser event headlined by country singer Martina McBride.

The NO-BURN® Team met with the builder and sprayed portions of the walls the week before filming on the show began. One night of filming, the NO-BURN® Team drove to Rosehill, KS which is just outside of Wichita and sprayed the remaining parts of the house, which were still on flatbed trucks. The team also had the opportunity to get on site and spray the garage, which was being built at that time.
