Project Background

The basement of the SIGMA CHI Fraternity is used for various social events and parties. These events sometimes fill the basement of the fraternity with hundreds of people. The local Fire Marshal instructed that the fraternity must treat the ceiling with a fire retardant, and recommended using No-Burn®. Otherwise, the fraternity would no longer be allowed to use the basement as a social and party room. Because of a prior working relationship, the Fire Marshal specified No-Burn®, and he would not consider any substitutes. The fraternity director contacted the Certified No-Burn® Dealer located in Kentucky, and within two weeks, they were able to hold their events again.

Value to Purchaser

The SIGMA CHI Fraternity was required to apply a fire retardant coating in their basement, or they would not be able to hold any social events or parties. The Fire Marshal's recommendation of contacting a No-Burn® Dealer allowed the fraternity to quickly solve their problem at a lower price than competing fire retardant coatings. Overall, the SIGMA CHI Fraternity is now a safer place, and it will continue to be an important social gathering place.
